

The attorneys at the Law Offices of Kevin M. Gilhool recognize that dealing with a loved one's financial and medical affairs in the time of a health care crisis can be overwhelming. In fact, we have faced the same issues in our own families. We are empathetic to the stresses and strains facing our clients.

Our attorneys pride themselves on their listening and communication skills as well as the quality of their legal work. We empower our clients by providing information and insightful strategies. We respond to telephone calls and inquiries promptly. When needed, our firm works with other professionals, such as geriatric care managers, financial advisors, and CPA's as part your team to make sure that all bases are being covered.

Above all, we act with integrity and treat each client relationship as a privilege.
